FLSA COLLECTIVE ACTION ALLEGATIONS

20. Plaintiffs bring these claims as a collective action pursuant to FLSA Section 16(b), 29 U.S.C. 216(b), on behalf of all non-exempt persons employed by Defendants at any New York location on or after the date that is three years before the filing of the Complaint in this case as defined herein (“Collective Plaintiffs”).

21. At all relevant times, Plaintiffs and the other Collective Plaintiffs are, and have been similarly situated, have had substantially similar job requirements and pay provisions, and are and have been subject to Defendants common policies, programs, practices, procedures, protocols, routines, and rules willfully failing and refusing to pay them one and one half times their hourly rate for work in excess of forty (40) hours per workweek. The claims of Plaintiffs stated herein are essentially the same as those of the other Collective Plaintiffs.

22. The First Claim for Relief is properly brought under and maintained as an opt-in collective action pursuant to 16(b) of the FLSA, 29 U.S.C. 216(B). The Collective Plaintiffs are readily ascertainable. For the purpose of notice and other purposes related to this action, their names and addresses are readily available from the Defendants. Notice can be provided to the Collective Plaintiffs via first class mail to the last address known to Defendants.

23. The named Plaintiffs are representative of those other workers and are acting on behalf of Defendants' current and former employees' interest, as well as his own interest in bringing this action.

CLASS ACTION ALLEGATIONS

24. Plaintiffs also bring their N.Y. Lab. Law claims pursuant to the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure ("F.R.C.P.") Rule 23, on behalf of all non-exempt persons employed by Defendants at any New York location on or after the date that is six years before the filing of the Complaint in this case as defined herein (the "Class Period").

25. All said persons, including Plaintiffs, are referred to herein as the "Class" or the "Rule 23 Class". The Class members are readily ascertainable. The number and identity of the Class members are determinable from the records of Defendants. The hours assigned and worked, the positions held, and the rates of pay for each Class member are also determinable from Defendants' records. For the purpose of notice and other purposes related to this action, their names and addresses are readily available from Defendants. Notice can be provided by means permissible under the F.R.C.P. 23.

26. The proposed Class is so numerous that joinder of all members is impracticable, and the disposition of their claims as a class will benefit the parties and the court. Although the precise number of such persons is unknown, and the facts on which the calculation of that number are presently within the sole control of Defendants, upon information and belief, there are more than twenty (20) members of the Class.

27. Plaintiffs' claims are typical of those claims which could be alleged by any member of the Class, and the relief sought is typical of the relief which would be sought by each member of the Class in separate actions. All the Class members were subject to the same corporate practices of Defendants, as alleged herein. Defendants' corporate-wide policies and practices affected all Class members similarly, and Defendants benefited from the same type of unfair and/or wrongful acts as to each Class member. Plaintiffs and other Class members sustained similar losses, injuries and damages arising from the same unlawful policies, practices and procedures.

28. Plaintiffs are able to fairly and adequately protect the interests of the Class and have no interests antagonistic to the Class. Plaintiffs are represented by attorneys who are experienced and competent in both class action litigation and employment litigation and have previously represented plaintiffs in wage and hour cases.

29. A class action is superior to other available methods for the fair and efficient adjudication of the controversy – particularly in the context of wage and hour litigation where individual class members lack the financial resources to vigorously prosecute a lawsuit against corporate defendants. Class action treatment will permit a large number of similarly situated persons to prosecute their common claims in a single forum simultaneously, efficiently, and without the unnecessary duplication of efforts and expense that numerous individual actions engender. Because the losses, injuries and damages suffered by each of the individual Class members are small in the sense pertinent to a class action analysis, the expenses and burden of individual litigation would make it extremely difficult or impossible for the individual Class members to redress the wrongs done to them. In addition, important public interests will be served by addressing the matter as a class action. The adjudication of individual litigation claims would result in a great expenditure of Court and public resources; however, treating the claims as a class action would result in a significant saving of these costs. The prosecution of separate actions by individual members of the Class would create a risk of inconsistent and/or varying adjudications with respect to the individual members of the Class, establishing incompatible standards of conduct for Defendant and resulting in the impairment of class members' rights and the disposition of their interests through actions to which they were not parties. The issues in this action can be decided by means of common, class-wide proof. In addition, if appropriate, the Court can, and is empowered to, fashion methods to efficiently manage this action as a class action.

30. Upon information and belief, Defendants and other employers throughout the state violated the New York Labor Law. Current employees are often afraid to assert their rights out of fear of direct or indirect retaliation. Former employees are fearful of bringing claims because doing so can harm their employment, future employment, and future efforts to secure employment. Class actions provide class members who are not named in the complaint a degree of anonymity which allows for the vindication of their rights while eliminating or reducing these risks.

31. There are questions of law and fact common to the Class which predominate over any questions affecting only individual class members, including:

- a) Whether Plaintiffs and the Rule 23 Class are non-exempt from entitlement to overtime compensation for all hours worked in excess of 40 hours per week;
- b) What policies, practices and procedures Defendants implemented regarding payment of overtime compensation, spread of hours, and breaks and meal periods;
- c) Whether Defendants failed to pay Plaintiffs and the Rule 23 Class overtime compensation for all hours worked in excess of forty (40) hours per week within the meaning of the NYLL Article 19 § 650 et seq. and the supporting NYDOL Regs., 12 N.Y.C.R.R. Part 142;
- d) Whether Defendants failed to pay Plaintiffs and the Rule 23 Class spread of hours pay by failing to pay an additional hour's pay when they worked more than ten (10) hours in a day, as provided by 12 N.Y.C.R.R. sect. 142-2.4;

- e) Whether Defendants failed to provide Plaintiffs and the Rule 23 Class breaks and meal periods in violation of NYLL sect. 162(4);
- f) Whether Defendants wrongfully interfered with the rights of Plaintiffs and the Rule 23 Class to immediate possession of earned wages and, thus, engaged in unlawful conversion of their compensation;
- g) The nature and extent of the Rule 23 Class-wide injury and the appropriate measure of damages for the Class; and
- h) Whether Defendants failure to pay Plaintiffs and the Rule 23 overtime compensation for all hours worked in excess of forty (40) hours per week, spread of hours pay was done willfully or with reckless disregard for the applicable federal and state wage and hours laws, and whether Defendants' failure to afford proper meal and break period was done willfully or with reckless disregard for the applicable federal and state wage and hours laws.

52. With respect to the cash paid to Plaintiffs, Defendants failed to provide a pay statement containing gross and net wages, itemized deductions, and/or itemized allowances. Accordingly, upon information and belief, Defendants failed to properly pay the payroll taxes for those cash payments to Plaintiffs like Social Security, Medicare, Federal Unemployment (FUTA), N.Y.S. Unemployment Insurance (SUI), N.Y. Reemployment, N.Y. Metropolitan Transportation Mobility Tax (MCTMT), and N.Y. Disability Benefits (SDI).

53. Plaintiffs did not supervise any other employee and had no supervisory authority whatsoever over any other person.

55. Also, Plaintiffs, and Collective and Class plaintiffs, typically worked more than ten hours each day during the week, yet Defendants willfully failed to pay them spread of hours wages.

56. When Defendants hired Plaintiffs, and Collective and Class plaintiffs, they never furnished them with a notice containing: the rate or rates of pay and basis thereof, whether paid by the hour, shift, day, week, salary, piece, commission, or other; allowances, if any, claimed as part of the minimum wage, including tip, meal, or lodging allowances; the regular pay day designated by the employer in accordance with section one hundred ninety-one of this article; the name of the employer; any “doing business as” names used by the employer; the physical address of the employer’s main office or principal place of business, and a mailing address if different; the telephone number of the employer, and anything otherwise required by law.

overtime rates of pay, gross and net wages, itemized deductions, and/or itemized allowances.

58. Defendants failed to post or keep posted a notice explaining the minimum wage and overtime pay rights, and employee rights by the NYLL.

59. During all relevant times, Defendants failed to maintain accurate and sufficient records of those hours Plaintiffs worked and those wages paid to them.
